

What you love to drink is never better than when it is enjoyed with what you love to eat.

We will be happy to help you pair wines with the foods you have chosen, or to chat with you about the flavor pairings you like.

WILLIAMS SELYEM

Great wineries not only make great wines, they do so consistently. This year-in-year-out maintenance of quality can prove quite difficult, especially for wineries that practice winemaking in a so-called “non-interventionalist” manner, allowing the vintage to show through the fruit, and allowing the fruit to control the winemaking process.

There are only a handful of wineries in California that, in my opinion, can produce consistently great Pinot Noir, year after year, decade after decade, but there’s no question that Williams Selyem ranks near the top of that brief list. Their name on a label of Pinot Noir is as close as I know to a guarantee of quality.
